

HUNTERS RUN NEWSLETTER

April 2007 / Volume 2 Issue 4

SPRING IS HERE (FINALLY!!)

With the warmer weather teasing us just a little bit, it is a good time to think about packing up those heavy winter blankets and cleaning up for our horse show. The first show of our series is Sunday, April 29th. Please be sure that the exterior of your stall is clean and your blankets/tack/grooming supplies are safely in your tack box. Things tend to grow legs during horse shows. It would be nice to have all stalls clear and aisle clean for that very busy day.

As soon as the mud dries up- we will be looking for helpers to pick rocks in the outdoor ring as well as the paddocks. If we all do a little bit - the rocks won't have a fighting chance!!

I am starting to get winter blankets cleaned and dried. If you have a blanket or two for me to wash - please bring them to my garage with your name attached to the blanket (the key tags (Staples type) work best). I will try to keep up with the horse laundry.

We would like to thank Jeri and Tiffany for their time and expertise with all the wonderful winter clinics this year. I think you will all agree that we are lucky to have knowledgeable and professional instructors that are giving of their time and talents.

Please keep checking the candy machine for show sign up sheets. There will be more clinics and fun event sign-ups soon. The Bedford Pace and many other fun days are not far away.

Here's to a fun and safe Spring!
